1. INTRODUCTION
In the system structure of the Core Socialist Values, the rule of law is one of its basic contents, a significant aspect of value orientation at the social level, and the core value pursuit of socialist society at the institutional level. Implement the Core Socialist Values into the concrete practice of governing the country according to law, run through all links of scientific legislation, strict law enforcement, fair justice and law-abiding by people from all walks of life, form an environment of socialist rule of law which is conducive to cultivating the Core Socialist Values, and strengthen the consciousness of people from all walks of life of practicing the Core Socialist Values with the concept and spirit of the rule of law. The rule of law is not only the inherent meaning of the Core Socialist Values, but also a powerful booster for cultivating and practicing the Core Socialist Values. Only when the Core Socialist Values are effectively integrated into the practice of the rule of law can people truly achieve the unity of ideological guidance and behavior guidance. Law is not only a social norm and regulation means, but also has its own internal value rationality for maintaining democracy and demonstrating justice. Therefore, it is a major innovation in the concept of rule of law construction to bring the rule of law into the Core Socialist Values from the level of social value orientation.

2. ESTABLISH THE CONCEPT OF THE RULE OF LAW and STRENGTHEN THE SYSTEMATIC COGNITION OF THE CORE SOCIALIST VALUES
As the basic content of the concept of socialist rule of law, the rule of law is also inevitably reflected in the concrete content and value pursuit of the Core Socialist Values. The rule of law is the core content of socialist rule of law and the fundamental guarantee for the realization of all value orientations of core values. The goals of economic prosperity, political democracy, advanced civilization and social harmony at the national level need to be continuously completed on the track of the rule of law. The pursuit of freedom, shared equality, fairness and justice at the social level needs to ultimately be based on the rule of law, which is the basic way of governing the country. The citizens’ patriotism and moral code of conduct at the individual level, as well as the relief when the value norms are facing challenged and deviated, are also indispensable for the regulation of legal means. As the essential requirement of the socialist rule of law, law enforcement for the people should be guided by the Core Socialist Values, and the fundamental interests of the broad masses of people from all walks of life should be realized, maintained, and developed as the fundamental starting point and foothold of law enforcement. In the process of law enforcement, truly meet the essential requirements of the Core Socialist Values, and earnestly safeguard and protect the legitimate rights and interests of citizens. In law enforcement activities, the establishment of a socialist concept of the rule of law should be closely integrated with the reality of law enforcement work and team construction.
The law enforcement entities should be educated and guided to firmly establish and adhere to the concept of governing the country according to law, effectively standardize the use of law enforcement powers, improve the credibility of law enforcement agencies in handling affairs according to law, firmly establish and adhere to the concept of law enforcement for the people, and strive to overcome the phenomenon of inaction in law enforcement. Fairness and justice is not only the value pursuit of the socialist concept of the rule of law, but also the connotation of the Core Socialist Values. It is a necessary way to realize the core value function whether it is the synchronization of legislative justice and judicial justice or the equal emphasis on substantive justice and procedural justice. Administrative law enforcement and judicial organs should correctly handle the relationship between entity and procedure, fairness and efficiency, and completely separate law enforcement and judicial power from related interests. The socialist harmonious society should adhere to the principles of legality, rationality, equality and justice, maintain social justice and promote mainstream values and positive energy by means of the rule of law. As an important mission of the rule of law, serving the overall situation is particularly significant at present, which is to serve the top priority of constructing the Core Socialist Values. The construction of the rule of law should be committed to the process of building a well-off society in an all-round way, strive to create a harmonious and stable social environment, a fair and efficient legal environment, and achieve the unity of legal effect, political effect and social effect. At present, constructing a society ruled by law is an extremely significant form of practice for practicing the concept of socialist rule of law and promoting the Core Socialist Values. The whole society should further emancipate the mind, innovate ideas and organically integrate the education of establishing the concept of the rule of law with the cultivation of the Core Socialist Values, and take social recognition and people’s satisfaction as the final evaluation criteria. For one thing, the whole society should investigate and solve the existing problems from the level of ideological understanding and value concepts in the practice of implementing the concept of the rule of law. For another thing, the whole society should give full play to the guiding role of the Core Socialist Values education in the construction of a safe society and a society ruled by law.

3. PROMOTE THE SPIRIT OF LAW AND ENHANCE THE FAITH IDENTIFICATION OF THE CORE SOCIALIST VALUES

The reason why a great quantity of laws in a country can form an internally coordinated legal system is that this series of legal systems and norms follow and embody the common legal spirit. Therefore, the socialist legal system with Chinese characteristics is a concrete interpretation and rule refinement of the socialist legal spirit. Only by establishing and improving the governance system of laws and rules, regulating subject behavior and social order, and ensuring national security, stability and sustainable development, can the core value orientation at the national, social and individual levels be truly realized. People oriented and rights supreme are not only the core elements of the spirit of law, but also the basic connotation of the Core Socialist Values. The spirit of law is people’s unremitting pursuit of the value of social fairness and justice, and fairness and justice constitute the inherent essential attributes of the spirit of law. The spirit of law is the spiritual product of rational thinking about legal value. It needs to be carried out in the legal practice. Firstly, through the understanding of legal value and the operation of legal behavior, combined with the experience of the achievement of the rule of law to form and identify emotions. Secondly, an attitude towards legal faith is formed through rational cognition and value judgment. On this basis, it is externalized into legal behavior again. In this way, the legal spirit with legal faith as the core is formed. The cultivation of the Core Socialist Values is also based on practice, through pre-psychological feelings, and then internalize psychological cognition into conceptual form, and finally guide human behavior. The cultivation and practice of the Core Socialist Values presupposes specific scenarios and conditions for the common value spirit, legal faith, rational thinking and the behavior of the society ruled by law. In the meanwhile, legal spirit, legal faith and legal rationality provide unparalleled conceptual basis and rigid constraints for the internalization and externalization of the Core Socialist Values from other aspects of social ideology. By constructing a mature legal faith community among social groups and members, it is not only a key element to evaluate whether the spirit of law and its functions in a social superstructure are effectively embodied, but also to further enhance the faith identification of the Core Socialist Values. In short, it is a win-win process.

4. MAINTAIN LEGAL AUTHORITY AND PROMOTE THE CONSTRUCTION OF A GUARANTEE MECHANISM FOR INSTITUTIONALIZING THE CORE SOCIALIST VALUES

Legal authority focuses on the status and role of law in the process of state and social governance. In the various links of law operation, the authority of law mainly relies on its external coercive power and internal persuasive power. In contemporary China, firmly maintaining legal authority is of strategic significance for cultivating the Core Socialist Values and building the socialist country ruled by law. To use legal resources to promote the construction of the Core Socialist Values, it is necessary to integrate the content and requirements of the Core Socialist Values into the institutional design of legal norms, and also to implement legal authority into all fields of the overall layout framework of Socialism with Chinese Characteristics to form strong legal support and institutional supply. While strengthening the moral restraint and value guidance of social subjects, it constantly improves its legal concept and rule consciousness. On one hand, the behaviors and subjects that practice the Core Socialist Values shall be actively responded to from the legal level. On the other hand, the behaviors and subjects that deviate from the Core Socialist Values shall be strictly restricted and punished in accordance with the law. Only in this way can the process of cultivating and practicing the Core Socialist Values become a series of regulated processes where there are laws to follow and violations of the law should be prosecuted. The authority of the law comes from the people’s inner support and sincere belief, while the regular role of legal authority provides a guarantee of the national will for the common value pursuit of the people’s inner support and sincere belief. Legal authority not only depends on the state’s coercive force to ensure the enactment and implementation of laws, but also depends on the institutional rationality of conscientious law itself. Firstly, to make legislation more scientific, which needs to fully reflect the aspirations of the broad masses of the people and fully reflect the connotation and requirements of the Core Socialist Values. Secondly, to strictly regulate and impartial law enforcement, which requires strict adherence to the legal system and legal spirit, as well as the maintenance of public order, good customs and value orientation in line with the requirements of the Core Socialist Values. Thirdly, to promote the judicial credibility, which promotes the inner conviction and active implementation of the Core Socialist Values among people from all walks of life. To be specific, solve the deep-seated contradictions and problems that affect judicial justice and restrict judicial ability, accelerate the construction of a fair, just, efficient and authoritative judicial system and mechanism, treat the demands of the people reasonably according to law, strive to make people feel fairness and justice in the judicial process, and resolutely prevent the harm of judicial unfairness to people’s feelings and damage to their legitimate rights and interests. Judicial justice is the last line of defense to maintain social fairness and justice. Judicial justice not only forms the credibility of the rule of law among the people, enhances people’s sense of trust in the law, but also enhances the concrete process of the effectiveness of the identification of the Core Socialist Values.
