It is precisely because of this, "Wen Road", the grand structure creators in the plot to the design and performance of the Chinese character style nationalization capability to show in it. Confucius Language troubled times, he devoted his life to pursue benevolent ideology in politics; engaged in preaching, Tuition, FAQ on education, breaking the monopoly of education, creating a private school pioneers, the people in ignorance of enlightenment, is known as the "sage teacher, teacher for all ages." Confucius Confucianism growth process is a process of continuous development and maturation, from Confucius, who embodied by the "warm, good, Christine, frugal", so, benevolence, righteousness, propriety, wisdom and trust," is the accumulation of the Chinese nation in the blood character. This "re-creation" process, that is, the strong stretches over 5,000 years of history and cultural heritage integrate into the overall framework of the story, in a sense, "Confucius", the focus is not to pay their last respects to deliberately shape for the "Confucius" image, but also focus on about that period of history and culture, it is hoped the children through the film philosophical connotations sentiment, on spiritual purification and sublimation. Animated film "Confucius" is dedicated to young people in traditional cultures and a bridge, so that small audience through their favorite form of understanding of Confucius that was originally in the hearts of children up vivid Confucius distant, so that the original incomprehensible for children Confucianism, "benevolence" spirit gradually penetrated into the childrens lives, feel the idea of the resurrection of Confucius in modern society, to appreciate Confucius personal charm.

The combination of tradition and entertainment, from the most simple and intuitive for kids to classical culture imprint, the promotion of traditional culture, communication and 'going out' with a profound sense. "In the economic globalization, cultural same trend, maintaining national consciousness, national characteristics, is particularly important. As an effective means to relive the Confucian classics, to promote the spirit of Chinese culture, the role of the animation is obvious. Both young people about the history of the fun of watching the movie, but also to learn Analects knowledge, yardsticks, naturally form a cultural sense of belonging, so let the youngsters grew gradually form a national literacy, and this national literacy gradually accumulate, will form the entire nation temperament. So we from the animated film "Confucius", the hit can be seen because of its subject matter in mind and has a wealth of historical and cultural connotation of the spirit, but also because it can be well satisfied with the traditional thinking of the people now on the domestic cartoon and the pursuit of knowledge beyond.
