Current situation of tourism English
Currently, the institutions of higher learning have generally established the major of tourism English; in the learning process, the students majoring in tourism English shall not only fully master textbook knowledge, but also timely know and learn the development and change of current forms of tourism. Through mastering more tourism-related knowledge, it is able to help students’ career development. With the continuous change in social environment, the tourism also continuously adjusts its development direction in order to meet the basic demand and objective demand of the society, thus the students shall also continuously adjust their development direction in the learning process according to the practical demand of social development so as to lay a firm foundation for later work. The continuous adjustment on teaching objective is not only made based on students’ desire for knowledge learning, but also made for the purpose of meeting the basic demand of current tourism and tourism English.

Features of tourism English teaching

Strong practicability: As for tourism English education, the higher vocational institutions advocate oral English education, that is, they focus on cultivating students’ English communication skills and English use ability in actual work process; after completing the tourism English learning, the students shall be able to complete the reception on foreign tourists, booking of hotel rooms, and introduction of basic information of scenic spots to tourists; in the traveling process, the students can use professional tourism English to provide basic assistance and service for foreign tourists. Based on this, the students majoring in tourism English in higher vocational institutions shall enhance learning and cultivation of oral ability, and the schools shall also provide more chances for students to communicate with foreign tourists, correctly understand the meaning of tourism documents, improve the service quality of tourism guidance, and then complete the service work of all tourism projects in a better way.

High skill requirement
In order to engage in foreign affairs-concerned English tour guide or service management of higher hotels after graduation, many students select the major of tourism English, and the learning purpose of this major is to carry out direct communication with foreign people on the basis of sufficient reserve of English knowledge, which lays a firm foundation for their future work and learning.

Strong specialty
In the learning process, the students majoring in tourism English must master some English vocabulary, sentence patterns and grammar related to foreign affairs-concerned tourism, and can use English to fluently communicate with foreign tourists. Different from learning of other basic English, the tourism English teaching is a professional English teaching work, thus the English learning and training must be systematic and standardized. The students shall skillfully master the relevant process for a tour guide to carry out work, tourism-related laws and regulations, and local cooking culture and humanity features, master basic etiquette of international association, reserve certain international knowledge, and be familiar with tourism safety, world geography, and other professional knowledge.

Reform of tourism English teaching

To enhance the cultivation of oral communicative ability
In the process of actual English learning, the teachers shall emphasize the practice of oral English and require that the students can completely and fluently express the textbook knowledge via English. Furthermore, the teachers shall set corresponding oral English communicative scenes and let students have free English communication under the set background to enhance students’ oral ability and improve students’ comprehensive quality.

To use common and descriptive vocabulary
Most of foreign tourists come to travel for the purpose of knowing local customs and cultural features, and they often visit the natural scenery with a relaxed mood; therefore, the tourism workers shall use straightaway language to introduce relevant scenic spots and humanistic features so that the tourists can easily and intuitively know relevant information. In the actual work process, the descriptive vocabularies will be massively used, for those vocabularies can enhance tourists’ imagination and deepen tourists’ impression. Certainly, as for the communication problem caused by local cultural difference, the tourism workers shall select suitable vocabularies to express their information and provide foreign tourists with better tourism service.

To improve the input and output of tourism culture background
While the tourism work is implemented, English shall not only have certain language feature, but also undertake certain responsibility of cultural transmission. Therefore, in the daily teaching work and textbooks, it is required to add more teaching related to Chinese history, culture, and folk customs so that the tourism workers can show local folk customers to world people in a good image in the actual work process. The tourism workers are the messengers of cultural transmission; therefore, to improve relevant personnel’s English expression ability, especially oral expression ability, can greatly help the development of whole tourism.

To improve the relation between English teaching and tourism
We shall combine daily teaching work of schools with tourism development in Qiannanyu Area of Xingtai County, provide learners with more chances of field internship, and then combine with local cultural features to carry out practice of oral English and perfect the knowledge reserve of tourism English. In the actual internship process, the learners can also timely find their defects and insufficiencies, and correct and perfect them. In this way, it is able to greatly improve tourism workers’ quality and help students to complete their career planning in learning period so as to promote the further development of ecological tourism in Qiannanyu Area of Xingtai County.

Conclusion
In conclusion, with increasingly frequent international association, the ecological tourism in Qiannanyu Area of Xingtai County shall also seize the development chance to introduce local featured scenic spots to the world and improve local popularity. However, the improvement in popularity of featured scenic spots can’t be separated from tourism English, can’t be separated from tourism English education, and can’t be separated from tourism workers who have skillfully mastered the knowledge of tourism English. Therefore, under the condition of rapid development of ecological tourism in Qiannanyu Area of Xingtai County, the wide workers shall fully know the important promotion function of tourism English on tourism, and the college managers shall also fully know the important significance of cultivating professional tourism English talents so as to practically cultivate a batch of talents with high professional skills and high quality and add more vigor for the development of ecological tourism in Qiannanyu Area of Xingtai County through joint efforts of college tourism English teaching and tourist spots.
