The tang dynasty is the development of Chinese ancient dance on a glorious period, its prosperity is largely depends on the background of the society at that time. The tang dynasty is in great turmoil in relative to break the feudal autocracy, far from the latter's neo-confucianism era, new cultural norms to establish the transition stage. On ideology, the rulers of Confucianism, Buddhism, Taoism three ideas keep a hybrid compatible attitude, contributed to the relative instability of The Times, gives people give full play to their creativity and talent of freedom and opportunity, it is in this loose the cultural environment of unprecedented development, formed the buddhist flying the ci-poetry of net world. Flying the ci-poetry music dance acting aesthetic feeling is the strongest image, its volley soar, its body flex, twist, the acting fantasy, super hard, and not the human body; Its roaring, plankton, Banks, wiggle gesture, is beautiful to the extreme, roaring wave, in the bustle of completely forgotten in the dizzying, enjoy the happiness of the kingdom of heaven, as Mr Tan Shutong in the dunhuang flying art movement of study summarizes its five characteristics: "the rhythm of the imposing manner of flying, flying, flying interest, taking the pen and ink, and the change of the flying". [2] therefore, changeful dunhuang flying apsaras flying is the life and soul of art, is the momentum and vigor of life through heaven and earth reiki, it fully shows the burst all spirit of freedom, and to "fly" momentum throughout, in order to show a kind of freedom, elegant spirit, showing the full, with youthful vitality of passion and imagination.

Jump in the spring and autumn period and the warring states period in the history of the collection of feather, the dust a travelling XuanJuan and Mo, light can mess with dust, and their body is like a feather in the wind. Have the body can do light ZhangShangWu of zhao, "floating revolving back to clear snow" Yang high-ranked imperial concubine, all embody the incomparable superb dance skills and lightsome, the aesthetic form of detachment.

fangyuan people occupied area of a kind of intuition on the basis of a priori form, we call it the perceptual space, and there's a psychological sense of space, is through the visual, tactile, kinesthetic, somatosensory senses the medium. In China's traditional thought, the art works as self-content universe as a whole, the work space is the space of artistic image to survive, "empty", "solid" the two opposite each other and complement each other, interactive form. In the opera dance, virtual sex, it is one of the most important aesthetic characteristics of Chinese opera dance. Chinese opera art is deeply rooted in Chinese traditional culture, the pursuit of "the actual phase", "and not" aesthetic realm. Chinese opera virtual sex first refers to the stage scenery and props, often to a desk, two chairs under the different scenarios, performed by actors in the different action to show a different environment, or create a mountain, water, cabinet, floor, etc. Opera is dancing and stylized movements virtual, as stage image, is the combination of virtual and real. Such as opera in horseback riding, the horse is virtual, whip props is real. Water in the boat is virtual, OARS is real. Drama of the scheduling of time and the stage is more a lot of virtual sex, stage shows and not the objective time and space of the real world, but by the actor's movements to express the plot to show at a specific time and space, make the drama stage shows a high degree of flexibility and freedom. If use the human "the peony pavilion", dreams, the common combination of multiple space of the grave to show worldly desire for the beauty of youth, the love theme, as dreams show girl was chasing wing of good love, to show after the death of the grave to good love a perennial obsession, knitting a pair of stereo multi-level, begets more scenes of the actual situation, spatio-temporal crisscross the arts scene.
