Among them, Zhangjiakou north of Neimeng, south of Beijing, Langfang connecting Beijing and Tianjin, occupying traffic arteries. Baoding, Cangzhou respectively with Beijing, Tianjin, Hengshui connected with big cultural province of shandong, the other cities and counties also developed and convenient transportation and Hebei has a large population is a huge potential market. These also constitute a strong advantage in the development of county culture industry in Hebei province.

1) Brand positioning fuzzy, lack of personality.

The county characteristic culture brand should be a country culture the response, has its unique connotation, the style and the elegant demeanor, should take the personalization localization. But, at present, Hebei Province county domain culture industry in brand positioning, tend to focus on large and broad country name, but ignore the small and fine features of words. For example, Shijiazhuang Jinzhou “of Chinese pear township”, Langfang city county, “the hometown of the Chinese rosewood” .

2) Talent withered, quality is low.

The development of any industry, talent is one of the indispensable elements, as well as the development of county characteristic cultural industry, also need a large number of professional and interdisciplinary talents. Currently, each county personnel engaged in this aspect both the quantity and quality all has the huge loss. Will be in Shijiazhuang, Hebei province, for example, practitioners are only about 70000 people, and as the national culture of the ancient city of Baoding, practitioners are less than 60000. Thus in the county development characteristics of cultural industry and collect the related information, often appeared to be inadequate, creating products is also a lack of creative and not competitive. The development of the industry can't depart from the support of capital, perfect investment system is the important guarantee of an industry development, also is the important pillar of the county cultural industry development. But, as a result of investment in cultural aspects, Hebei province started late, the degree of marketization is not enough, concept did not keep up with in time, so the related policy system is not perfect, the county of Hebei province culture still mainly rely on state investment, private investment occupies less than thirty percent. Although the county historical relics protection, tourism, film and television art has some development, but due to lack of funding support, also be in individual situation, no mutual support and interdependence, cannot form the industrial chain, as well as difficulty in forming the cultural brand. Zhangjiakou, for example, Zhangbei vast grasslands, good ecological environment, and the farming and nomadic civilization blend the unique culture, but because of their poor economic, also does not have good investment system, so that the rich resources of many haven't development, idle. Cangzhou xian, its large number of cultural relics, with the han dynasty tombs, the Ming dynasty stone bridge, zhangzhuang the Catholic church of the French gothic style of architecture, Ma Benzhai mother-child martyr cemetery, etc., but these same because of the lack of investment and didn't get due development.

Integration of the beijing-tianjin-hebei region again, especially the beijing-tianjin-hebei coordinated development planning outline, for the development of Hebei county characteristic culture, is a cardiotonic.

3) The arrival of the Internet era.

The rapid development of science and technology is a powerful engine to lead the industry to develop. Today, the development of the Internet is growing by leaps and bounds in our country, especially the advent of the Internet era of big data now, this directly led to the prime minister Li Keqiang, comrade Deng Xiaoping, comrade Qi Jiguang and other characters are on the screen, which provides a good reference for the development of Hebei's county characteristics cultural industry. As is known to all, the Beijing and Tianjin culture industry is very developed area, from regional point of view, and in Hebei are of yanzhao culture, and its cultural development has been occupy the high-end market, more dynamic and competitive. In addition, other counties are close to the cultural province, such as the Hengshui, Xingtai, Handan are near the big cultural province of Shandong, causing serious impact. Cultural competition in the region is undoubtedly a big challenge to the development of the cultural industry in Hebei province.

2) The competition between counties.

Due to the Hebei Province in recent years vigorously support the development of cultural industry, the municipalities and counties to funds to the project, local counties has been in a fierce competition. Shijiazhuang Jizhou hit, for example, "the hometown of pears in China" brand, and also the Dacheng county of Langfang ever played "the hometown of pears" slogan; Cangzhou xian as "the hometown of golden thread jujube", however, Cangxian is also regarded as "the hometown of golden thread jujube". County resources characteristics of good or bad depends on the county cultural industry development is good or bad, and the advantages and disadvantages will be continuously widening, thus, the development of the county cultural industry in Hebei province will be extremely unbalanced, would have been at a low level as a whole.

3) The competition foreign culture industry.

Along with our country reform of increasing,some of the outstanding cultural enterprises abroad into the various counties in Hebei Province, the local caused a serious impact, such as carnival, Disney and other enterprises, as well as the influx of Christmas, Valentine's day and other festivals, these are all counties to develop their own cultural industry caused a certain threat.
