IV. RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

The good professor is a lecturer who is able to make students become good people and have the ability to perform tasks well. They always lead the students to be good people and always do a lot of things for students to bring the desired-changes. For that reason, lecturers and students should be able to cooperate properly. Good lecturers are people who are able to bring students into people who are disciplined and do a lot of things in his life someday. Good lecturers are lecturers who always taught me many things in society that leads to things that are desired by him.

To achieve what is desired by a student to have a good and successful life, it needs tenacity and great desire from both students and lecturers. And it should be done properly and correctly. As discussed with other lecturers who have a desire to accomplish the duty properly, the process need helps from many people who move around and do a lot of good things to him.

Lecturers, as people who have experience in various lectures as those who carry the desire to be the ones that bring the various kinds of students to be existed in good way in life, should be helped by students. It is because students have an important role in his position. Students should act as the person who brings great thought in his mind that must also bring changes that occur in their society. Communities are the ones who always read and viewed from different aspects that do a lot of things and source of problems that occur in our society. They are people who make a difference in many aspects of our lives. Teaching is an important task for us in bringing major changes to society and our teaching. By teaching, major changes will occur in the lives of our society. Teaching and learning process is one thing that is important and urgent for our nation and state. Lecturers have a full and important task for the community, and the nation. With qualified lecturers, nation enlightenment will be achieved.

Lecturer, in doing the teaching, will develop a plan for the implementation of the teaching and doing a lot of things in teaching and education. Teaching would require good teaching preparation. Good teaching requires good measuring tools to produce the desired results. In studying this measurement, it is needed a good tool like a team of professionals to work with and also a good measurement to quantity properly. In a society that appreciate the importance of this study well and independently. The result can be obtained as follows. Evaluation of teamwork results obtained are:
