Using television, newspapers and print advertising medium for honest cultural transmission, etc. Some party members in colleges and universities to establish honest cultural research team, honest culture research activities and field trips. Or in the course construction, in the school open and honest education elective courses, and actively promote honest cultural course teaching material compilation and publication, strive to build a clean culture. Divided into the following several aspects:

Although some people can realize the connotation and significance of the probity culture, but there are still many people lack of deep understanding of honest cultural spirit, think incorruptible culture associated with the government, is the category of political workers need to be honest, with its own actual life, make its importance is not enough, the honest cultural construction positive participation is not high, resulting in many ordinary people suffer.

In today's new media age, honest cultural propaganda education mode also needs to keep pace with The Times. Honest culture and at present there are a lot of publicity still stays on the traditional text books, or top-down preaching, form a single, boring content. Some way to attract people slightly, but only to film and television public service ads, or print ads, less diverse forms. And in the era of new media is developing rapidly today, more than it's hard to make the multi-storey public propaganda way, especially teenagers are interested in and understand, nature is difficult to achieve the desired effect.

Incorruptible cultural construction is the need to act together to the national people's long-term culture construction work, is not only some temporary activities and research can be done, is not a department or a part of people will be able to complete, need to take into account the comprehensive nature of the audience, the scientific nature of the work, the propaganda education of systemic. Now many of the honest cultural construction way lack the analysis of the people of every age, result in appropriate way of propaganda and education and performance content can move people. The Times are changing, the people of all ages to accept changes. Want honest culture in the invisible, will in content and form of every age class thought behavior characteristic, propaganda way to go on the leading edge.
