I. INTRODUCTION

Fashion is always changing, the definition implies that fashion is about change, and that an object, style, or activity stands out against a backdrop of stability[5]. Outerwear including timeless or fashion clothing that is not wobbled by time, or clothing that can be worn all the time. Thus timeless fashion models will always appear in accordance with the development of fashion trends. Trend mode consists of two word trends and modes. Trend comes from the English language which means following the latest model, according to the dictionary mode is the latest variety of ways or the latest form at a certain time. Thus fashion trends can be interpreted as the latest model of interest to the community. Line of development have generally been considered the main organizing paradigms of trends in fashion [11]. Similar opinion is mentioned that the trend of fashion is defined as a way or style of dress that always follow the times, which from time to time there is always renewal in terms of shape, color, variations caused by the progress of Science and Technology [6]. As well as outerwear developments occur in both design, color and fabric. there is a mention that stylist evolution of the outerwear icon [3]. This years, outerwear into fashion trends in Indonesia, especially among Muslim women, because one function of outerwear is covering the curve of the wearer's body. Deviantri [2] mention other than as a supporting appearance, outerwear or outfit can be used to warm the body when the cold weather. For Muslim women outfit can help cover body shape.

As mentioned above, outerwear can cover and complement the outfit, then outerwear can be said multifunction, so its benefits are many, one of them will make someone look stylish, and this will increase one's confidence.

A. Outerwear

Some definitions of outerwear are, according to The Randon House Dictionary [1] outerwear is clothing worn over other clothes, especially for the outdoors. This shows that outerwear is a garment worn over other clothing, especially for outdoors. Outerwear is clothing worn outdoors or clothing designed to be worn outside other garments, as opposed to underwear [10]. Meaning outerwear is an outfit worn outdoors or clothes that are designed to be worn outside other clothes, as opposed to underwear. According to Webster merriem [8] outer is clothing for outdoor wear or as opposed to underwear. By definition this outerwear is clothing for outerwear or as opposed to underwear. Of the three terms of the outerwear, it can be concluded that aouterwear is a garment worn on top of another cloth, and used to go out of the house or the opposite of underwear. outerwear can be made from a variety of textile fabrics but not transparent. Kambata et.all. [4] said that in the market the major materials fpr men's suit and women's outer garment are woll, cotton, silk, and polyester fabric.

In principle, outerwear, is clothing worn outside the main outfit or outfits, and can be used for winter or to cover or get around the underwear that is less supportive of appearance, can also be used to look stylish. This is in accordance with the opinion .. which states With a little research and a little investment, it is not too big a challenge to find some great styles of outerwear that will not let you down when the winter winds come calling. The above statement shows abhwa with outer wear can still be stylish even in winter. Similar opinion is mentioned that outerwear into a fashion trend that is preferred by teenagers and mothers, using outer wear such as vests, blazers, cardigans etc. Will add more beautiful appearance and stylist [9].

B. Types Of Outerwear

II. METHODS

The method used in making this article is conceptual. Conceptual or nonpenelitian article are the author thoughts on an issue, as outlined in written form by first reviewing sources relevant to the problem. Opinions or establishment writers are the most vital part in the article. Principal elements contained in article conceptual namely; title, author name, abstract and keyword, introduction, discussion, conclusion, and reference.

Various theories show that outer clothing can add confidence and make the wearing more stylish. Thus, outer wear is multifunctional, it is very interesting to discuss.

III. RESULTS AND DISCUSSIONS

In this article more emphasized on the outer outfit type of cardigan that will give the impression of style on the wearer, especially long cardigan in women who wear Muslim dress. Cardigans are usually buttoned in front, with the development of the changing mode, so many cardigans that do not use the front button or just use the rope as a binder. The original goal of cardigan is one type of clothing supporters are intended to anticipate the cold and also prevent and protect the appearance of the main clothing itself. Furthermore, cardigan is now a fashion trend complementary fashion. In other words, long cardigan as outer clothing is a fashion that can support the appearance of someone to be more confident. The same thing says that cardigan is one model that can be mix and match with various types of other clothes. In addition, with any style, cardigans will never be called outdated. It is also mentioned that cardigan is very appropriate to be used as supporting the appearance, especially if you have tired of wearing clothes that are always worn, then the look will be more fresh and stylist.

As mentioned above, that outer outfit has multifunctional, so it's better that every muslim woman needs to have it. Long cardigans are including the outer outfit of cardigan type but made long to exceed the knee. Long cardigans now, especially in Indonesia are made from various materials such as cotton, batik, brocade, chiffon, denim, t-shirt, spandek, knit, songket, woven etc. Some long cardigan functions are as follows: 1) With large and long form, this will disguise a fat woman, and 2) Can help women who want to dress syar'i muslim, because it can indirectly cover the aurat so it looks more comfortable . Long cardigans are usually made with various models, but the most common is the basic model, ie straight down from the top (www.hijabina.com).

Below we will show some models of long cardigans for formal, casual, and work opportunities that give the impression of style to the wearer:
