Abstract. The Zhuhai student volunteers participate in the exhibition of volunteer activities, to learn their attitude, volunteer training, volunteer allocation and coordination, incentive, security and other aspects, summarize the successful experience and put forward suggestions for improvement according to the survey data, the Zhuhai Convention and exhibition activities aimed at improving students volunteer service level.

I. Zhuhai exhibition activities college students volunteer service status survey results and analysis subjective awareness of volunteer activities by College Students. 1)college student volunteers' understanding of participating in voluntary activities. Through the questionnaire feedback, found that 83% of Undergraduates of the volunteers that participate in volunteer service activities is a very meaningful social activities, 71% of people think that volunteering helps to cultivate the consciousness of team cooperation and understanding to help others, 51% of people think that participating in volunteer activities can have the opportunity to use professional skills, enhance myself, 75% of people think that helps to broaden our horizons, increase their knowledge, 49% of people think that can help to enhance their sense of social responsibility, but 15% of people think it is a waste of time, no meaning. See Table 1. More than half of the students have a positive attitude towards the awareness of voluntary activities.

2)The enthusiasm of College Students' volunteers to participate in the volunteer activities. The survey found that the students' enthusiasm of volunteers to participate in activities worthy of consideration, according to the survey results, the survey of 4.94% people to volunteer more disgusted, 12.35% of people think that do not do nothing, 12.35% of the students will actively pay attention to volunteer information, 39.51% student volunteers to participate in voluntary activities in order to earn credits and service hours, 30.86% volunteers will have the opportunity to participate in volunteer activities.

Now many universities have the volunteer service as one of the standard of students' quality assessment, provides many opportunities for students to participate in volunteer service activities, but did not consider the students' time and energy is limited, in the busy to complete their schooling, and some volunteer activities and students class time conflict, also led to participate in volunteer activities can not achieve the desired purpose.

3) university volunteers' working attitude towards volunteers
According to the results of the survey, to occasionally active, 25.5% of the students in the volunteer service period is in a passive work. See Table 2. For the problems and their lack of presence in the volunteer service work, there are 15.3% student volunteers carefully own Table 1 The enthusiasm of working tasks during voluntary service volunteer should take the initiative to take responsibility, not to complete the work, 31% of people think the responsibility is not fully, there are 17% the work will affect their leaders and students in image. 29% of the students think that they do not have the idea of shirking their responsibilities, but they lack the courage to take responsibility. See Table 2.

In the process of college volunteers' participation in volunteer service, 63.2% of them had problems, and they could communicate with relevant leaders in time, and 36.8% of them couldn't contact leaders in time to communicate. It shows that the communication ability of college students themselves needs to be improved.

The survey found that college student volunteers in volunteer service work, 13.7% of the students can always put forward proposals or improved methods, 22.3% of the students sometimes put forward the suggestion and towards work suggestions and methods of improvement are also required. 35.1% of the students occasionally put forward proposals or improved methods, 28.9% student volunteers never propose the suggestion and method. See Table 3, indicating that college students' working attitudes.

According to the survey results, college students can see volunteers participating in the exhibition activities during the service, if you have never met or leadership.

Ⅱ. Countermeasures and suggestions

Perfect the selection mechanism and improve the enthusiasm for participation. How to solve this problem, university organizations should play power, give full play to the advantages of the school community to recruit volunteers, do the propaganda work, the ideal way is to communicate according to the relevant departments of the students and teachers with the nature of exhibition activities and related professional school, which does not affect the normal school students also use of volunteer activities to meet students need to practice[2]. In the process of volunteering, students think this is an effective way to improve their professional skills, and will improve the enthusiasm of the volunteer service. Of course, before entering the exhibition site, students can truly understand the meaning of volunteering, do a full range of training, do not let college volunteers feel like volunteering, thereby affecting the enthusiasm of volunteering.

Improve the training content and improve the training effect. In the way of training, it is best to take small classes. After all, the training effect of thousands of people will not achieve the purpose of training. A large number of colleges and universities have a large number of volunteers to consider the training of separate small classes, colleges and universities themselves to organize training, teachers and colleges and universities can also meet their own.

To improve the professionalization of volunteers, volunteer management organizations should understand their knowledge, skills and skills based on job analysis and job evaluation, and conduct targeted training for their members.
Perfect the evaluation mechanism and give full play to the social benefit. First of all, volunteer service standards should be established. Universities should have specialized agencies for volunteer training. In the process of volunteer service, volunteers lack supervision, service attitude and enthusiasm need to be improved. We should establish a sound volunteer evaluation mechanism, first of all, establish a sound evaluation system. The volunteers from the social, University and organizational groups should have a supervisory mechanism, which is also a fair treatment of volunteers. The evaluation of volunteers can include the quality of service, the number of times of service, the assessment of the school skills and the ability of organization. Objective evaluation of volunteer service, so as to stimulate the participation of volunteers, improve the quality of voluntary service and improve the reputation of the school. Thus, the social benefits, social recognition, and the promotion of the virtuous circle of voluntary service work.
