I. INTRODUCTION

China's outstanding family style is an important part of China's excellent traditional culture. College students are the future of the country. They shoulder the heavy responsibility of realizing the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. The education of socialist core values for college students is a project in which the socialist core value system enters colleges and universities to carry out ideological and political education for college students. The education of socialist core values of college students can effectively enhance the cohesiveness of students, and effectively strengthen the construction of colleges and universities under the guidance of Marxism in the field of ideology in colleges and universities. The education of socialist core values of college students is also the comprehensive maintenance of the ideological and political level of colleges and universities in the field of ideology in our country. It also belongs to the overall goal of comprehensively realizing the well-off society, the need to adhere to and develop socialism with Chinese characteristics, and comprehensively promotes the greatness of the Chinese nation. The revival has promoted the realization of the "Chinese Dream."

II. FAMILY STYLE AND SOCIALIST CORE VALUES

A. The connotation of family style

The family style is also called the "door wind", which is a family atmosphere. Family style represents the tradition of a family. Family style is related to the daily habits of family or family, the value of thinking and the cultural atmosphere in which they live. It is also the family's or family's unique style, style and style after years of formation. Family style not only bears the family's personality as a social cell, but also reflects the value orientation, ethics and behavior of the excellent traditional culture of the Chinese nation's "slim, family, and state". Family style is a family or family style. It gives family members the power of faith. It is a family atmosphere that is naturally formed in the long-term process of family education. It is the style of family members and the style of working life. . To a certain extent, the family style also affects the individual's thinking mode and behavioral norms.

B. The essence of China's excellent family style

China's excellent family style refers to the essence of the family style that has emerged and precipitated in China's past society. The inheritance of China's excellent family style can maintain family relationship and promote social development, while also providing an empirical method for governing the country. . The main content of the family style has both stable and unique ideas, moral sentiments and behaviors. There are two kinds of carriers for China's excellent family style. The first one is the family training, family books and family rules of the feudal society, and the other is the physical practice and words and deeds of the elders of ordinary small families. The formation of family style is based on social ethics and values, and it has played a role in regulating and educating people's behavior through inheritance. Through thousands of years of accumulation, China's excellent family style has finally formed four aspects: the method of diligence and filial piety, the teaching of the gods to cultivate the righteousness, the self-discipline of self-discipline, and the integrity of the world.

C. College students' socialist core values education

At the 18th National Congress of the Party, the core values of socialism were put forward as "rich and strong, democratic, civilized, harmonious, free, equal, fair, rule of law, patriotic, dedicated, honest, and friendly." The 24-word socialist core values reflect the essential requirements of China's socialist ideology, provide the correct value orientation for the people, and point the way for college students to shape their own values, which is conducive to college students planning their future careers. College students refer to students who have received higher education but have not fully entered the society. College students are more likely to accept the new ideas in society. College students are professional talents cultivated for the country, and college students represent the direction of the most advanced culture in China. And college students are young and energetic and can promote the progress of the whole society. College students are in the transition period from youth to adulthood. They have certain ability to distinguish between good and evil, true and false, and ugly. But at the same time, they are easily induced by the wrong value trend and are eroded by decaying and backward social thoughts. Therefore, some college students There is a vagueness in value orientation, confusion in value selection, and so on. The education of college students' socialist core values can strengthen the recognition of college students' ideology of China's socialist countries, better build the cause of socialism with Chinese characteristics, and realize the grand goal of building a well-off society in an all-round way as soon as possible. Liu Fang expressed his own views on the definition of college students' socialist core values. He believed that "the general views and fundamental views on value, value relationship, value beliefs and value goals formed by college students under the guidance of the socialist core value system." [2] Research on the socialist core values education of college students can make a significant contribution to the development of ideological and political education theory level. At the same time, it also provides a realistic reference for the practical teaching of ideological and political theory courses in colleges and universities in China. effect. Carrying out the education of socialist core values for college students, actively guiding college students to establish the correct value orientation of the mainstream of individual development and socialism development in China, is conducive to the overall development of college students themselves, and promote the unity of college students' own values and social values, and promote China The continuous advancement of the socialist cause.

III. THE INTRINSIC LINK BETWEEN CHINA'S EXCELLENT FAMILY STYLE AND SOCIALIST CORE VALUES

There is an intrinsic close relationship between China's outstanding family style and socialist core values. First of all, the basic project of socialist core values is China's outstanding family style. After years of precipitation, the connotation of China's excellent family style is summarized as "five permanents" and "eight virtues", what is "five permanents", that is, benevolence, righteousness, rites, wisdom, and faith, and "eight virtues" refers to filial piety, filial piety, Loyalty, faith, courtesy, righteousness, honesty, shame, these are also the core content of the excellent traditional culture of the Chinese nation, and these core contents are continuously passed down through the form of family training and family rules. China's excellent traditional culture can be refined, passed down and sublimated through the family style. Some scholars pointed out: "Traditional family training ethics is the demonstration of Chinese traditional culture at the family level, and it has played a unique and important role in the inheritance of Chinese culture." [3] Each of us decided the family we lived from birth. Environment, we are not free to choose the family environment. In the family, we are constantly being influenced by the culture of Chinese culture and the words and deeds of our parents in their daily lives. College students are in a critical period of physical and mental development, and their values are easily influenced by the surrounding, thus forming values that are compatible with the surrounding environment, so that the family style becomes a natural and effective form of enlightenment morality and endurance. The moral values and spiritual qualities of college students are directly affected by the quality of their family. The university period is a crucial period for the formation of personal three views and the implementation of socialist core values. We should use this as an opportunity to actively guide college students to establish correct values through the education of China's outstanding family style on the socialist core values of college students, the comprehensive characteristics of college students' physical and mental characteristics and their plasticity. From ancient times to the present, China has always had the tradition of attaching importance to family style and education. It has always attached importance to the education of values of college students, and warned that "life is young, spiritual patents, and when they grow up, they think about distraction, and they must be early education, and not lose their chances." [4] Although the values change with the changing environment of the individual, the value education received in the early years has far-reaching and lasting influence. Mo Yan, a famous Chinese writer, said in the speech of the Nobel Prize in Literature at the Swedish Academy: "There is a person I miss most at the moment, my mother." He used nearly one-third of his space to tell about his achievements today. Can not do without the mother's teachings. As General Secretary Xi Jinping emphasized, "the majority of families must repeat the teachings, teach themselves, teach knowledge, develop morality, help children buckle the first button of life, and take the first step in life." [5]

Secondly, China's excellent family style is an important carrier for socialist core values to penetrate people's lives. A macroscopic abstraction and a concrete realization between China's outstanding family style and socialist core values. The education of the socialist core values of college students is a complicated and cumbersome process, and the cycle is long and the task is heavy. It is necessary to start from the individual life of college students, start from the subtleties, explore new ways and expand the carrier. On the basis of expanding the carrier, in the daily life of college students themselves, the society can potentially guide and educate, so that college students consciously practice the core values of socialism. To cultivate a good family style, we must start with family life. We must start from small places and educate university students to develop good qualities of filial piety, love of labor, diligence, honesty, trustworthiness, and kindness. At home, we must stipulate the compliance of family members. What is the behavioral norm, how to properly handle the relationship between husband and wife, parent-child relationship, neighborhood relationship, etc.

IV. THE WAY TO INTEGRATE CHINESE EXCELLENT FAMILY STYLE INTO THE EDUCATION OF COLLEGE STUDENTS' SOCIALIST CORE VALUES

A. Attach importance to family education and create a harmonious family atmosphere

The starting point of the core values education of college students' social society comes from the family. The words and deeds of the family elders affect the development of children's own behavior and the development of moral quality. Parents are the children's first teacher's words and deeds, and the inner feelings that are not revealed will affect the formation and development of children's values. To educate college students about the core values of socialism, we must first have a good family style. The establishment of an excellent family style is a parent. Only when parents have their own values can they create a good family atmosphere and teach children to establish correct values. A competent parent must first have a correct concept of family education. If you don't care about your children, you are only busy with work and entertainment, don't pay attention to your child's state of mind, only care about your child's test scores and ignore other aspects of your child's development. Such parents are unqualified. Secondly, competent parents should also establish a correct outlook on life, world outlook, and values. Parents must have good ideology and character while recognizing socialist core values. Only in this way can they set an example for their children.

B. Broaden the channels of publicity and improve the social atmosphere

Regarding China's excellent family style, many college students have heard but not a special understanding. They still need to be strengthened at the level of publicity. Therefore, it is necessary to expand the propaganda of family style. First of all, we can give play to the propaganda and public opinion orientation of the news media, give full play to the functions of the relevant cultural product educators, give full play to the spread of public service advertisements, and open up the new functions of the Internet. Through propaganda and education, we will vigorously carry forward the values of socialism in our country and infect the social groups. Secondly, we must continue to change the methods and contents of communication, extend its sphere of influence, take the initiative to seize the advantage of public opinion, and guide people to shape a correct outlook on life, world outlook and values. With a positive and positive family style that is consistent with the development needs of the new era, college students will be educated on socialist core values, and the excellent family style will become the trend that leads the social value trend. Finally, we must pay attention to the role of role models and give play to the leading role of key groups. For example, party members take the lead in studying the relevant theories of building socialist core values, take the initiative to create an excellent family style that conforms to the core values of socialism, and set a model for the family of college students. College teachers pursue the moral education first, people-oriented education policy, constantly innovate and improve their personal teaching level, teacher moral cultivation, and set a good example for college students.

C. The meaning of this article

In summary, the core values of socialism cover different values of the state, society, and individuals. The essence of socialist core values is to advocate the unity of individual values and social values, and the essence of China's excellent family style is simply "Slim, family, and state." As a social elite, college students must shoulder the heavy responsibility of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation and realize the unity of their own values and national values. Although the current research on China's excellent family style and the socialist core values of college students is not enough, I believe that With the development of society, the path of integrating China's excellent family style into the education of socialist core values of college students will become more and more abundant, and college students will have a better understanding of the importance of China's excellent family style in practicing socialist core values.

V. CONCLUSIONS

The family style is positive, the country is right, the family style is clear, then the country is clear. College students are the main force for realizing the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. Without the values to guide the correct and excellent family style, there will be no great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation for college students without correct values. China's excellent family style has an excellent guiding role for the education of college students' socialist core values, fully developing their educational value, is conducive to better cultivating socialist successors, better building a socialist cultural power, and better promoting the country. Prosperous. Therefore, the study of the path of integrating Chinese excellent family style into the socialist core values of college students is of great theoretical and practical significance for the implementation of the spirit of the 19th National Congress of the Communist Party of China and for promoting the implementation of socialist core values.
