I. INTRODUCTION

Indonesia is a country that is cultured. Cultural wealth owned by Indonesia as a nation making the nation the sake of noble values in the governance of life of society, nation, and State. Philosophically, the sublime value of nation's culture to be one of the basic sources of the country's Pancasila Indonesia. This indicates that public life is inseparable from the culture of the nation of Indonesia itself as the identity and personality of the nation. As a nation that is rich in culture, national culture consisting of regional culture spread throughout the archipelago with all its philosophical meaning, uniqueness, as well as the value of benefits that are called with the values of local wisdom. Local wisdom is essentially a sublime cultural values of the area that is believed to be the truth and its usefulness in supporting community living activities. Local wisdom covers all forms of knowledge, beliefs, understandings, insights, as well as custom or ethics that guide human behaviour in life in ecological communities [1]. Local wisdom values in each region has its own distinctiveness in accordance with characteristics belonging to the community of his followers.

South Sumatra on society for example, which consists of a few scattered tribes in each city. South Sumatra has four major tribes namely Komering, Ogan, Pasemah, and Palembang, and several other tribes. Local wisdom society South Sumatra is reflected in the activity of public life according each tribe as in customary marriages.

Custom wedding society South Sumatra done according to custom is believed to be by each community. Although globalization has brought an impact on the course of the wedding customs of the land process, but will not reduce the meaning of the value contained in each of the stages. Each stage in the custom of the marriage illustrates the values of local wisdom concerned community, both on the process before, during, and after the wedding day.

Basically, local wisdom values each region has the same base that is the country's basic values of Pancasila. So although each area has a different but local wisdom values that in it remains of Pancasila. Thus, the existence of local wisdom values it is important to be very guarded in the effort of realizing national integration.

II. THEORETICAL

Local wisdom community is a living tradition in the community and is believed to be the truth because it has a philosophical values, so that it becomes the Community guidelines in carrying out the activity of his life. Local wisdom sublime cultural values of society to set the order of people's lives [2]. However, the process of interaction and socialization of society in the era of globalization provides a great influence for the possibility the values of local wisdom. The existence of the very values determined from the pattern of her attention. and appreciation society. Philosophically, the cultural values of the community holding the strategic function in the process of a nation and a country Indonesia.

That nation's culture is one of the basic sources from country Indonesia, Pancasila. In other words, that nation's culture on Pancasila Indonesia itself (causa material). Local wisdom values of society in Indonesia in principle reflect basic values of Pancasila which is a philosophical foundation and unite the nation. This means that if the local wisdom values in public life will provide a positive influence for society against pancasila. Thus, the values of local wisdom can strengthen national integration.

III. METHOD

This research was conducted in four tribes in the area of South Sumatra comprised of Tribal Histories, Pasemah, Ogan, and Palembang in Ogan Komering Ulu Timur, Lahat, Ogan Ilir, and Palembang. The tribe's fourth assignment with the consideration that the tribes are the tribes of the great representative and with the community of South Sumatra Province in General. The respondents in this study is the fourth indigenous peoples from the tribe as well as other parties that have the competence against cultural customs of marriage from each tribe (purposive sampling). This study used a qualitative research approach, on the situation it is natural (natural setting) which requires that the occurrence of direct interaction between researchers with the respondent.

As for the method used is descriptive research method. Descriptive research with consideration being able to describe a phenomenon with scientific procedures to respond to problems in actual [3]. The table shows that Indigenous Tribal wedding procession in the Histories, Pasemah, Ogan, Palembang and contains local wisdom values that reflect the notability of the nation as a result of the high value of cultural civilization. Such values surely stems from the nation’s ideology Pancasila which is able to strengthen the unity of the nation through governance each stage of the procession before the wedding day, the day of the wedding, and after the wedding day takes place.

Before the wedding day starts from the moment of application, at the time of marriage is the Covenant of marriage, and events during the wedding as an event after the wedding day. In process before the wedding day, that cover events there is local wisdom values on a society that values of Pancasila namely human values, unity, and consultative. The value of humanity looks upon arrival the prospective bridegroom with a parent or who represent the home of prospective bride as a form of homage to the male party to the women. Next is the value of a Union which can be observed from the process of intermingling between the two families of prospective brides with local communities regardless of social background.

As for the highly consultative value clearly visible at the time arranged to determine the day of the wedding and things associated with the procession. After the application process, the next is the process at the time of the wedding day (marriage contract). Local wisdom values which appear in this procession is the value of the Godhead, human values, and the value of unity. At the time of starting the Covenant of marriage held a reading of the Quran, the Font, and the sermon of marriage, as well as the praises to God Almighty. That illustrates that the value of the Godhead coloring procession to Covenant of marriage.

Next is a human values can be seen at a time when the bride and groom bow to his parents to invoke prayers of blessing and apologies as a sign of filial piety to parents, as well as greet the invited guests were present as a form of Thank you for your presence as well as appealing for prayers for blessing. Then the value of unity breakfast buffet when both couple mingling in one united interaction with the whole family and guests in attendance. The next process is the Thanksgiving marriage, describing the existence value of the divinity, humanity, and justice.

The value of the Godhead can be seen when the bride and groom as well as all guests were present to say a prayer as a form of gratitude upon this Covenant of marriage. After that, all guests who attend enjoy a meal prepared by the family, at the moment the humanitarian values of the breakfast buffet. Based on the description it is understood that local wisdom values on society’s tribes of Ogan, Komering, Pasemah, and Palembang and still stayed up until now, there are changes in certain stages, but it does not reduce the meaning of the existing values. That is because the local wisdom as wisdom is sourced on the values that are considered good and right and persist for a long time [5]. In the context of the marriage customs of the values that the values are internalized divinity, humanity, unity, which is a consultative value contained in the Pancasila.

Thus, the values of the local community can become an instrument of strengthening national integration. It is inseparable from the nature of local wisdom as knowledge itself intergenerational useful to the community as it relates to family, neighbors, community, and the environment [6]. Local wisdom community as the nation's ethnic identity and Indonesia is the dynamic conditions that should be understood by every element of society. This means that changing times will bring the influence for the local wisdom values of society. Therefore, in order for the identity and the identity of the nation maintained absolute seriousness required from all parties to keep the values of existing local wisdom. The existence of local wisdom values give meaning to the existence of a State, because according to Toyenbee so that the nation and the State of Indonesia still exist in the middle of torrential currents of globalization then Indonesia society should keep putting ethnic and national identity as a basis to act in the modern era [7].

V. CONCLUSION

Based on the results and the discussion of it can be concluded that the values of local wisdom society South Sumatra still exist until nowadays, it can be seen among them on the procession of the custom wedding that internalize values local wisdom in the process before the wedding day, the day of the wedding, and after the wedding day. The values in the value of the values of Pancasila State basic divinity, humanity, unity, populist, and justice. Thus, the values of local wisdom can strengthen national integration. Based on these conclusions, expected to all elements of society in order to always keep the local wisdom of society, and actualization in the life of society.
