Introduction
Culture is the result of human reason and mind. Culture is something that affects the level of knowledge and includes a system of ideas or ideas contained in the human mind. Culture reveals human nature from various tribes, nations and races. According to Edward Burnett Taylor:

“Culture is a whole complex, which contains knowledge, beliefs, customs, and other abilities obtained by a community member. Art as one of the elements of culture that is experiencing development from time to time. Art is a part of culture and a means that can be used in some ways to express a sense of beauty in the human psyche. Art as a means to express a sense of beauty, also has other functions”.

As stated by William A. Haviland:

“Art is a whole system that can involve the process of using the human imagination creatively in groups of people with a particular culture. Art is one of the cultural dance arts which is divided into several fields, one of which is dance”.

Dance is a rhythmic gesture that is carried out in a certain place and time for social purposes, expressing feelings, intentions and thoughts. According to Soedarsono (1977: 17) suggests that dance is an expression of the human soul which is expressed through rhythmic and beautiful dance movements. Dance can be used as a tool to communicate. Dance makes the body as a medium for expressing it. In Indonesia, there are various types of dances which have different characteristics, styles, functions. Differences in the nature and style of dance are caused by many things, such as the natural environment, historical development, means of communication. From all of that forms a distinctive cultural image. Traditional dance is a dance that has existed in ancient times and is still preserved from generation to generation. Traditional dance is a dance that involves the body, mind, soul, feelings that are communicative and social, society and do not have institutional standards or rules. Balota dance is one of the nagari children's arts Bukik Baiah Kec. Lasi River. This dance is based on the story of the Bukik Baiah area complete with the system of love. Before Bukik Baiah was formed into a nagari formerly was taratak, bakoto, dusun. However, during the formation of the Nagari there was one member of the community who refused, namely Nakis. He refused or did not agree to build the village. Nakis was whipped with a sweet banana midrib, so Nakis admitted his mistake and allowed the formation of the nagari named Nagari Bukik Baiah. Then the local community was gathered to hold a great day at that time. At that time the formation of the nagari embodied, until finally Bukik Baiah was formed. The Nagari is arranged through customs and laws.

According to the researchers’ initial interview with Datuak Siak (March 7, 2018), Balota Dance tells the story of the awakening of the blahah. Balota dance is a dance that displays silat movements in a whip game. Balota dance is usually played during certain events in Bukik Baiah or Solok regencies, for example in the event of welcoming the good month, a special feast to slaughter buffaloes (tiga times all day). Balota dance is usually accompanied by traditional Minangkabau music such as Saluang and also talempong pacik. The song played in the Balota dance is in the form of a drum and petihah. This dance is only performed by male dancers and if what is attracted by women is Balota Pelapah Pinang Dance.

Based on the results of observations and interviews with the dance informants that have existed since the ancestors but had been vacuumed, in 1990 Balota dance was reappointed by the Tourism Office and reintroduced to the community, this dance was danced by men only, this dance has special requirements to dance, like the conditions of a female native chicken, flower blossoms. This dance is a ritual that is the existence of a game of fire but is now no longer used.

Balota dance was previously only known by the local community and this dance has special requirements for dancing, such as fire rituals. In the past Balota dance also had values in the form of mystical elements, now this dance has moral values in it. This dance has been around since their ancestors existed. But with the development of Balota dance, it had been vacuum for several years. On tourism initiatives, tourism revitalizes Balota dance. This dance is expected to return to the midst of the community in 1990. The former Balota dance form is very different today. The difference lies in the movements he dances. In the past this dance had a ritual before this dance in the show. If anyone wants to perform this dance, then the special requirements must be fulfilled to be able to dance this dance, such as chicken slaughter, offerings and so on.

Yanuartuti Setyo (2015), Revitalization of the Performance of the Jobang Teak Puppet Duwuwr Jobang Narawangsa Broken Horse Playing. Dissertation of S3 Indonesian Institute of Art Surakarta. The dissertation explained that the text of the WTJD performance before being revitalized had an interaction with the geographical, social and cultural conditions of Jombang, and the background of his life, as well as intertextual relationships with other performing texts in Jombang. The WTJD performance is a Jombang Wayang Topeng performance, and has the character of the Java Timuran Mask Puppet show. The concept of WTJD revitalization is the artistry and desecration of the process which is carried out with the stages of reformulation, communication, organization, cultural transformation and routine. The process of working on WTJD performances is done by identifying ideas, observing artistic values, collaborating artistic values with artists' ideas, cultivating staging, staging to find the taste of the audience.

Conclusion
Balota dance is an indigenous art which is located in canarians Bukik Baiah. This dance has existed since their ancestors existed and passed down from generation to generation. But the Balota dance had been vacuum for several years and was reappointed in the midst of the community in 1990 by the local government. This dance describes the Bukik Baiah community in forming a leadership system complete with its ranks. However, there was one member of the community who refused the proposal. From there the community raised the story of Balota Dance being a tradition that was in the Lasi River. Revitalizing dance values, community needs, Balota dance performers are played by men, reflecting cultural values as local regional identities and the survival of Balota dikanagarin local dance, this dance continues to be preserved even though there have been several creations done, but not reduced the values that exist in the Balota dance.
