THE TRADITIONAL MARRIAGE OF PEKAL ETHNIC IN NORTH BENGKULU REGENCY

Berru Nobellia¹ and Agusti Efi²
¹ Universitas Negeri Padang, Padang, Indonesia, ✉ byrunobellia@gmail.com
² Universitas Negeri Padang, Padang, Indonesia, ✉ gusti@yahoo.co.id

Abstract
Meaning and composition the traditional procession of Pekalnese ethnic marriage is unique, because it is different from other traditional marriages. Many young people of Pekal ethnic don’t understand why they must follow the existing marriage terms. Because of that the researcher intends to describe the meaning and terms the traditional procession of Pekalnese ethnic marriage. This research is qualitative research and descriptive. The research performed by primary data collection with interview techniques, note data, and documentation. The result obtained are the most important requirements in traditional marriage of Pekal ethnic is kaum (a clan that is smaller than a tribe), because Pekal ethnic following the eksogami matrilineal system. Because of that Pekal society can’t marry with someone who has the same kaum name. The next requirement is sarao kehing (food made from white sticky rice) and must be served on each stage of traditional procession of Pekalnese tribal marriage. Sarao kehing has a meaning for Pekalnese ethnic as a symbol for husband and wife in order to keep family secrets whether it is a good or bad family. While the composition the traditional procession of Pekalnese tribal marriage is marriage contract, ngubak basung (introduction husband to wife’s family, clan family, and the community), turan semendo (parade of bride surrounding the village), merah mato (put sedingin water into the eyes), pencak silat (traditional fight), serah semendo (releasing women as wives to husbands), betepung sumpah mudo (redeeming female promises to other man before deciding to get married), begundai (traditional dancing and just female can do that), resepsi (modern party), and the last is tari (like a dancing but use the traditional fight, and just man can do that).

Keywords: Pekal ethnic, marriage, meaning, composition of the procession

Introduction
Indonesia people is really diverse from the geographical situatuin until the history of the nation’s development of Indonesia, so Indonesia has many different ethnic and culture which is in the entire region and has a different characteristic. It can be said that culture or civilization is a complex whole of knowledge, trust, art, moral, law, customs as well as abilities adn other habitacquired by humanas a member of the community(Tilaar, 2002). One of these customs is traditional marriage. The traditional marriage have a lot of variety in accorging to ethnics, religion, culture, and social class, like a traditional marriage of Pekal ethnic in North Bengkulu region. Pekal is ethnically inhabiting the province of Bengkulu, especially at North Bengkulu region. Pekalnese people aply a kinship system ismatrilineal (lineage from the mother) with the philosophy of the community is “adat besandi syara’, syara’ besandi Kitabullah, wasunah rosul” this means that ethic Pekalnese customs joined with Islamic law and the Islamic lawrely on Al-Qur’an with his blessing.

Marriage is a bond between two people who have many differences, physically, family care, association, the way of thinking (mentality), education and others (Rohaetti, 2016). Whereas custom is broadly outlineis interpreted as order of rulesin each type of costum (Soedjito, 2009), this rule id thence become customary law and the customary law is a habit law than applies to the supporting community (Soerjono, 2014). So that it can be said that traditional marriage of Pekal ethnic is bond between two beings (man and girls) which is connected in marriage ties with it is implementation using rule and laws custom that applies at Pekal ethnic.

Pekal ethnic have a unique of wedding ceremony, where marriage is considered sacred by custom when all conditions are met. The conditions that must be met is iskaum, begundai, belarak, tari dan sarao kehing. Not only that, the parents of Pekal ethnicity competitive in choosing candidates for her childby seeing bibit (descent), bepet (appearance), bobot (quality) someone, with conditions not allowed from same kaum in the same area. Kaum become an important condition of traditional marriage of Pekal ethnic, Pekal ethnic foling...
Advances in Social Science, Education and Humanities Research, volume 301 theeksogami matrilineal system (marriage aoutside the clan or ethnic and unlike the mother kaum). Pekal ethnic in one area and other area have a different number of kaum, example in Pekal ethnic at Ulok Kupai districts have a 7 kaum, that is Kaum Betuah, Kaum Ratu, Kaum Mudo Riang, Kaum Mato Keeling, Kaum Melayu, Kaum Doyang, and Kaum Zazali. Not only that, Pekal ethnic following the thematriolkalsystem is the husband must live in the wife’s house minimum for one year. Because of that the many parent of Pekal ethnic fine a mate for his child, even though some are not.

Formally Pekal ethnic do it the traditional marriage, but along with development era there are several differences in the procession of the marriage. Example: previously the traditional marriage of Pekal ethnic must carry out all the terms that have been determined, but now my not implement some terms. This is based on economic factors in Pekal ethnic today. Not only that, understanding of the younger generation about the mean in processing of traditional marriage in Pekal ethnic very less. Pekal ethnic have a different traditional marriage from Rejang ethnic in Bengkulu. Because of that Pekal marriage is really interesting to be a research. Traditional marriage of Pekal ethnic more similar with traditional marriage of Minangkabau in West Sumatera. Example the procession of traditional marriage is parade of bride surrounding the village.

Because of that, the researcher intends to researching about the meaning and composition the traditional procession of Pekalnese ethnic marriage today. With the aim for describe about the procession and what are the professions that must be carried out and which may not be carried out.

Method
This research use the qualitativemethod with descriptive character. This type of research considered the most appropriateto get the expected result. This type of research used because of it is nature investigator, where the researcher must be listen to information from informant and make a description based on information which is obtained. Qualitative used for describe about the processions and meaning of traditional procession of Pekalnese ethnic marriage in North Bengkulu regency.

This research don’t have a population and sample, but this research have a location of research and the research was conducted at Ulok Kupai districts and Napal Putih districts, because in two districts dominated by Pekal ethnic and take place the traditional marriage of Pekal ethnic. Preliminary observations were made in away therersearchers went to the research location to get the initial data, get closer to Pekal ethnic and determine research informants. The research informantsthe chosen is the people which is considered influential for Pekal ethnic, like akapalo kaum (kaum leader), kapalo adat (costum leader), kapalo sukutribe leader), cultural actors in Pekal ethnic, regional officials, people who have implemented the traditional marriage of Pekal ethnic, and another ethnic who lives side by side the Pekal ethnic.

The data validation very important for good results, because of that get a valid data, researchers do the triangulate data with the way givethe same relative question todo some informants to get the same of data. Then the data is considered valid check back to another informant. Then data triangulation was carried out again. The valid data later became the foundation to do analysis, so that it can be accounted for the it is validaty in academically and the metodologis.

Results and Discussion
Carrying out the marriage is necessity for every human being for the sake of fulfilling the basic needs of people life, because of that the marriage has a rules and norma in state law, religious law, and custom law to achieve happiness. In general marriage is defined as a bond between woman and men as husband and wife with the intention from a happy family based on god (UU no.1/74) and the marriage ceremony organized to legalize shio between men and woman in bond husband and wife form the point of view is religion, custom, and state law. The marriage of Pekal ethnic not only the relationship between man and woman, but become a bond between two big family, and affairs for kaum starting form make an agreement, engagement and the weading, even on matters of the marriage requires adjustment in many ways. So that kapalo kaum have an important role in tradition marriage of the heranok kaum (members of the kaum).

Terms that must be met in traditional marriage of Pekal ethnic is kaum, serah semendo, begandai, tari, and sarao kehing (food made from white sticky rice). Have atwosarao kehingissarao kehing putih (food made from sticky rice and the one above is sprinkled with the coconut cooked with brown sugar) and sarao kehing kuning (like a java tumpeng, but the tip is not pointed). Sarao Kehing having meaning that is as for the new family in order to keep a good family secrets or the bad a family. Sarao kehing always served at each procession of traditional marriage Pekal ethnic. The marriage of Pekal ethnic implemented in Islamic law and costume laid. The marriage of Pekal ethnic is trarting form betanyu (propose), dudak batanyo (the girls answere), ngantek tando (customer), basan samo aok o (committee meeting), madak (visiting neighbors), until the bimbang (the weading party). As for the stage in traditional marriage of Pekal ethnic is:
Akad Nikah (marriage contract)

Marriage is the union of a man and woman to roam a household and realized with ijab Qobul or akad nikah. Legal requirements for marriage at Pekal ethnic same with the rules of Islamic religion is the presence of a guardian from woman bride, witness, ijab Qabul and another. Akad Nikah carried out at home the tinu brodeat noonat 1 pm or 2 pm. When shaking hands in ijab Qabul the hands of lanang bride shaking hand with hans father form tinu bride covered with cloth which has a symbol of strength.

Ngubak Basu

The ijab Qabul finish and both bride are legitimate to be husband and wife, then lanang bride introduced to the big family of tinu bride, to anok akum of tinu bride. This gives the meaning that the marriage not only ties between men and woman, but bonding between two the big family and the community in his place of residence.

Turun Semendo (parade of bride surrounding the village)

Previously in this event bride parade to the river to do merah mato. But now bride are only paraded around the village by using accompaniment rehana edap (drum) which is beaten. And in this process the group brought the pahar bungo (flower), ayam sepasang (chicken pair), tunas kelapa (coconut shoots), and kayu bakar (firewood). This parade was carried out for give announcements to the whole community regarding about happy news both bride who have officially become husband and wife.

Merah Mato

Is drop Sedingin water to eyes of the bride. In merah mato what is used is isabana cone shaped leaves and then catton filled and give sedingin waterand then the ibu inang drop the water in the leaf to eyes of the bride. Merah mato is carried out at the bride’s house. Merah mato as a symbol that builds a family it is not easy, at later time there will be many problems coming will be faced and good or bad nature of a partner seen so don’t get it families fall apart because of it.

Pencak Silat

Pencak silat implemented as a symbol of strength, if a fighter from lanang bride successfully defeat the fighter from tinu bride, then the decision in the household during the stay at the wife’s house, husband may choose to involving the father or the wife or without interference the father or the wife. The procession is really important in Pekal marriage, because associated with continuation of the next procession. But now, this procession more to skill show of silat (self-defense), and the pencak silat become a place of friendship from male (lanang) family and woman (tinu) family.

Serah Semendo

Serah semendo implemented by kapalo kaum from tinu party and lanang party. Where both kapalo kaum inpengunjung and bring bukul containing sirih, nipah (cigarettes) and chili. It thesirih, nipah (cigarettes) and chili are odd, that is 3,5, and 7 mean that the tinu bride or lanang bride has not defects. But if even numbers, is 4 and 8, mean that the lanang bride ortimubride has a defect. In other words, these conditions are a form of honesty in costum, whether the tinu bride has a physical disability, mental is not even a virgin anymore. This can be seen from the amount of bukul content carried by the kapalo kaum.

Betepung / sumpah mudo

Aiming to destroy sumpah/janji mudo (promises/young vows), and it can be said that betepung is used as an antidote to promises made by the bridegroom who has not applied for him has not even know him, and vice versa. Previously betepung was carried at the hou of therumah panggung, by the way the two brides held the edge of the cloth under the stilt house and peneung with two other people holding the other end of the cloth. Then peneung splashed water on both brides by reciting verses which contained a young oath, where in the sentence there is the word tabik which means forgivenees. And the water used comes from sedingin leaves which are soaked in small bowl rings (may be silver or even gold) which is then taken by the peneung return for his service. Today the rings are usually replaced with envelopes containing money directly given to the peneung after the event finished and the stage hous is now being replaced, by the peneung standing on a chair or stage made.
Malam Begandai

Begandai is carried out at the tinu bride, and formerly the malam bagandai was held from 8 pm until 3 am, but now days the gandai only carried out from 8 pm until 11 pm because dancers are from Junior high school and senior high school so can’t be done until the early hours because it can disrupt school activities. Begandai hanya is only carried out by women because this is a form of the release of the tinu bride single status. Music accompaniment of gandai i'ssunai dengan edap and also songs like rhythms sung which contain advice for lanang bride or tinu bride in dealing with their household life.

Resepsi

In modern times like now, indentic receptions with the appearance of a single organ and the singer. The reception was held the next day, so on the evening the begandai program and the next morning the reception was held. And this reception, the bride and groom will sit on the pengunjung to enjoy the appearance of a single organ and also wait for invited guests to come. The reception is a form of modern party performance by the Pekalnese ethnic community to entertain invited guests.

Tari

Tari in Pekal ethnic is slightly different from dance in its true meaning. In our shadow dance shows some dancers who waltz with graceful movements. But in Pekal ethnic, tari is only carried out by men, because in tari there are also requirements that must be met and different from the dance that we know is general. Tari is carried out at night on the receptions day, starting at 11 pm until 4 am, and the two brides must followed tari until finishing, because at the and there will be like the closing ceremony of the wedding ceremony. Tari performed by the men consists of several froms and is dominated by the fight movement. Almost the same as gandai, tari is also accompanied by accompanying music namely sunai and edap with poems like rhymrs sung which contain advice for become legitimate new families in conjugal relations.

Conclusions

The result obtained are the most important requirements in traditional marriage of Pekal ethnic is kaum (a clan that is smaller than a tribe), because Pekal ethnic following the eksogami matrilineal system. Because of that Pekal society can’t marry with someone who has the same kaum name. The next requirement is sarao kehing (food made from white sticky rice) and must be served on each stage of traditional procession of Pekalnese tribal marriage. Sarao kehing has a meaning for Pekalnese ethnic is as a symbol for husband and wife in order to keep family secrets whether it ia a good or bad family. While the composition the traditional procession of Pekalnese tribal marriage is marriage contract, ngubak basung (introduction husband to wife’s family, clan family, and the community), turun semendo (parade of bride surrounding the village), merah mato (put sedingin water into the eyes), pencak silat (traditional fight), serah semendo (releasing women as wives to husbands), betepung/sumpah mudo (redeeming female promises to other man before deciding to get married), begandai (traditional dancing and just female can do that), resepsi (modern party), and the last is tari (like a dancing but use the traditional fight, and just man can do that)

References

UU No. 1 of 1947 about the marriage